2. Tips for making effective presentations: <ol style="list-style-type: none">Plan carefully—have an idea of exactly what you want to include before you begin creating.Do your research—presentations are made to be seen by other people, you will therefore want to ensure you have all your facts correct.Know your audience—consider your target audience carefully and try to ensure the content is appropriate.	 The screenshot shows the SlideModel.com website interface. It features a central slide titled "Business Presentation" with a blue wave graphic and the text "Company Name". Annotations include: "Change Presentation Title Here" pointing to the title, "Toolbar & Menus" pointing to the top navigation bar, "Slide thumbnails" pointing to the left sidebar, and "Use this space to add your slide notes" pointing to the bottom area. Other text includes "6085-04-light-company-profile", "Sharing Options", and "Click to add notes".
3. Self and peer assessment: <ul style="list-style-type: none">Self and peer assessment are one of the best tools you can use to help you evaluate your presentation.It is always worth going back to evaluate the effectiveness of your work, whether that is checking your facts are accurate, ensuring there isn't too much information to read or making sure you have used transitions effectively.	 The screenshot shows the Microsoft PowerPoint interface. The main slide is titled "Annual Sales" and contains a bar chart titled "Chart Title". The chart displays data for four categories: CATEGORY 1, CATEGORY 2, CATEGORY 3, and CATEGORY 4. The y-axis represents values ranging from 0 to 1,000,000. The chart includes data labels for each bar and a legend at the bottom identifying "Series 1" and "Series 2". The PowerPoint ribbon and slide thumbnails are also visible.
