Our hearts go out to Ukraine at this awful time. We have been holding all those affected in our thoughts and have been praying for peace.

Here are some of the children's prayers they have written at our prayer station.

Each child has decorated a heart in the colours of the Ukrainian flag and added a word to give support, strength and hope at this time. Holding the hearts tightly, each child said a prayer and their own words for peace, safety and hope.

The hearts will go into the pockets of the donated clothes or boxes of toiletries and will arrive in Ukraine within the next two weeks.

A child with family from and in Ukraine shared with me today...

Did you know the Ukrainian flag is yellow at the bottom to represent the sunflowers that grow in abundance in Ukraine and blue at the top to represent the blue sky.

WORLD BOOK DAY

Wow, what fun-filled day of books, biscuits and blether we had this World Book Day!

Our day began with an exciting assembly with guest author Ann-Marie Howell! Ann-Marie told us all about herself and her job as a writer. She talked to us about the meaning and inspiration behind her latest book, which is out at the end of the month. We were even given a signed copy of her new book, which isn't even available to buy yet! Ann-Marie read some pages from the book to us and told us we are the first people for her to read it to – what an honour! Lots of children got book plates signed by her ready to stick in their books when our book order arrives – how amazing!

Squirrel Class then had a writing workshop with Ann-Marie where she taught them how to write a gripping story opening. The children were so inspired by this session that they have continued with their stories after and will be sending them to Ann-Marie for feedback!

Ann-Marie had the privilege of judging our vegetable book character competition! She had a tough decision on her hands and ended up picking 4 winners!

Congratulations to: Dahlia Atwa (Squirrels) for the Hungry Caterpillar, Annie Chrystal (Hedgehogs) for the Gruffalo and co, Cole Casey (Moles) for Charlotte's Web and Flo Porter (Moles) for the Ladybird – all photographed on the right!

Our day also included a teacher swap for cosy reading time! Each teacher went to a different class to snuggle up and read a story together.

The rest of the day was filled to the brim with bookmark making, sharing our favourite stories with one another, reading together and writing together!

We even did a 'We're Going on a Book Hunt!' We found some GREAT ones! We are all very happy to have found some new books to have in our classrooms.

Rev'd Sue Nutt has written a prayer for our school to share together:

Dear Lord Jesus

We pray for all the people of Ukraine. We pray for the girls and boys who are frightened and worried. We pray for Mums and Dads who are keeping them safe.

We pray for all the kind people of Poland, Hungary, Moldova, Slovakia and Romania who are looking after families who are leaving their homes.

We pray that you will protect them all from harm and give them courage.

We pray that you will give them the peace they all long for
