Brilliant Badgers

Badgers have been loving Geography this half term. They have been looking at Ordnance Survey maps and the symbols on them. They have spent time looking at the symbols on a map of Thetford and discussing the local area around them. This week they got to have a go at designing their own towns and using the symbols to represent what we could find there. The children were fabulous at transferring what they had seen on a real map to maps of their own.

Great work, Badgers!

Piglet Cuddles!

Squirrels and Otters have been reading 'Pig Heart Boy', By Malorie Blackman in English this half term. They have loved it and of course it has led to loads of questions about pigs, from their anatomy to what they eat, and the production of meat. They were lucky enough to head out on the tractor and trailer to the farm behind school and ask all of these questions to a real pig farmer, Ben. The children had come up with some brilliant questions, finding out lots of interesting facts, such as:

- Pigs can have litters of up to 18 piglets!
- Piglets always feed from the same teat.
- Pigs can communicate with each other using around 25 different grunts.

The children are already excited to use the information they have learnt when writing their non-chronological reports this week.

Of course, their highlight of the morning was holding a piglet!! The piglet was so sweet and loved the attention from all of the children holding and stroking him. He even fell asleep in some of their arms! Unfortunately, he had to stay at the farm and couldn't be brought back to school!

What a fantastic and immersive morning, we are certainly excited to read your non-chronological reports in the coming weeks. Well done Squirrels and Otters!

Barnham's Bee and Butterfly Garden Update

This week lavender has been planted. They look beautiful along the edge of the garden. Poor Mrs. Arnold now has very achy shoulders!
