Tractors into Schools

Once again, Barnham Primary has taken part in the Suffolk Agricultural Association’s Tractors into Schools initiative and this year Foxes and Hedgehogs had the opportunity to learn more about telehandlers. Ollie, from Euston Estate, brought a JCB telehandler to the school and the children got to learn more about farming machinery. Fox Class wowed Ollie with their maths skills and Hedgehogs enjoyed looking for all of the shapes on a tractor and finding out how it is used.
